Doctor Radio in the Washington Post

Live from New York, it's Doctor Radio

By Sarah Vasquez Schultz
Just before 9 on a Thursday morning, a group of doctors and medical professionals gathered in a room at the NYU Langone Medical Center for a live broadcast of the Doctor Radio show. The show, which is a weekly live broadcast on SiriusXM's Ch. 110, is one of the most popular radio shows in the world. The show is hosted by Dr. Ira Breite and Dr. Virginia Sadock. The show is a live broadcast from the NYU Langone Medical Center. The show is a weekly live broadcast on SiriusXM's Ch. 110. The show is one of the most popular radio shows in the world. Internal Medicine
8:00 am - 10:00 am
Weight loss, diet, exercise induced injuries and injury prevention - NYU Medical Center Internist Doctor Ira Breite answers the questions that you wish you could ask your regular doctor. Like: Should I get hair restoration? What hair removal procedures are there? Should you supplement with vitamins, or stick with natural foods in your diet? And about that herpes sore? He's just like your doctor, only with more time and access to the world's experts.

Sexual Health
12:00 pm - 2:00 pm
Intimacy, desire, technique—no question is taboo for Dr. Virginia Sadock, one of America's most respected human sexuality experts, and Dr. Miriam Greene, a leader in hysterectomy. Through the anonymity of the telephone, you can finally talk about your fantasies, inhibitions, your partner's desires and your own.

Rehabilitative Medicine
2:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Get back on your feet! The rehabilitation doc is making housecalls — on your radio. From cardiac and pulmonary rehab to the special needs of women in physical therapy, joint pains and arthritis, tune in to Dr. Jonathan Whiteson to get the inside scoop on feeling better fast.

Healthy Aging
4:00 pm - 6:00 pm
Forgetfulness, frailty, pains, prescriptions, care—geriatric medicine specialist Dr. Michael Perskin takes your calls about aging and care of the elderly, from "Why do my knees hurt?" to "My mother can't remember who I am." Get a prescription for less stress, better care and a healthier life.
